TRANSIT COMPANY EMPLOYES MAY GO OUT ON STRIKE

New York, May 21—Threats of strike employes of the inter-borough Rapid Transit Company, New York's biggest subway system, were heard today following the workers' refusal to accept a proposed wage cut of five percent and their counter demand for a 20-percent increase.

The executive committee of the Brotherhood of I. R. T. employes is not scheduled to meet again until June 8, however, and unless a special meeting is called before that time no decision on a strike move is expected.

Farewell Is Given To Two Local Ladies

Mrs. Jennie D. Whitehead, who has resided in this borough for the past 33 years, coming here when the community was known as McKean farm, has decided to leave the town of her many friends and make her home in [illegible].

Last night in the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, the members of the Ladies' Aid Society accorded Mrs. Whitehead as well as Mrs. William Stockwell of Fallowfield avenue, who also leaves to live in Pittsburgh, this week, a farewell and reception. The Sunday school room of the church was filled to capacity and after an evening spent in reminiscences by the older members of the society, a fine luncheon was enjoyed. Each member brought their own luncheon in boxes and these were mixed up and distributed. As a token of esteem and appreciation the two departing members were each presented with a beautiful bread tray.

Mrs. Whitehead is a charter member of the Ladies' Aid, joining 30 years ago. Only three of the charter members are living. A number of talks were participated in by the various members and Mrs. Whitehead's talk of her early experiences was very interesting. She and Mr. Whitehead, who was killed two years ago, came to Charleroi thirty-three years ago. They ate their first meal in a restaurant conducted by George S. Might, which was a small building made of rough boards, whitewashed, located on the site of the present business place.

Mrs. Whitehead has been an active and devoted member of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, and has also been an active civic worker, taking over the office as Justice of Peace after her husband's death. Three of her five children were born and reared in Charleroi, namely, Ernest Whitehead of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Marie Ramsey, who died last year, and Mrs. Freda Emler of Donora. Homer Whitehead, East End, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Jean Ann Swick of Tarentum, were born in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Whitehead has been active in political affairs and in those measures which meant for borough progress. The lady's leave-taking, while cemented with the well-wishes of the populace, will be sincerely regretted.

The purpose of the study and survey is to outline a course of study that will qualify the rural school teachers of the future to educate a child properly from the time he enters the primary school until he is ready to go into the high schools.

PRESIDENT'S MOVE MUCH IN DOUBT

Informed Observers Believe Coolidge Will Take Final Step to Mitigate Affront to Japan Provided By the Immigration Bill

HUGHES IS IN CONFERENCE

President May Veto Bill And Ask Congress to Modify the Exclusion Clause, Stressing Serious International Situation Involved; Sign Measure

Washington, May 21.—Despite his futile efforts to modify the Japanese exclusion provision of the immigration bill, President Coolidge, instead of signing the measure without comment, will take some final step designed to mitigate the affront to Japan in the proposed law, informed observers believed today.

Meanwhile the two countries are facing a situation where neither may be represented by an ambassador in the other's capital. The resignation of Cyrus E. Woods, American ambassador to Tokio, having been accepted by the president, no official and diplomatic explanations seem able to down the impression that one of the causes of Woods' retirement is the proposed exclusion law.

Ambassador Hanihara, the Japanese envoy here, reported to be on the verge of resigning, told the United Press that he could not comment upon the subject. All the ambassador would say was that he had no present plan of resigning and that he was "awaiting developments."

Secretary of State Hughes is holding frequent conferences with President Coolidge on the Japanese situation. It is believed that Hughes would feel much of his work in the state department to have been in vain should an exclusion law result in a return of the delicate relations existing between these two powers before the Washington disarmament conference.

President Coolidge is likely to adopt one of the following courses on the immigration bill, those close to him believe:

1—Veto it and ask Congress to modify the exclusion clause, at the same time stressing the serious international situation involved.

2—Sign the measure and issue an accompanying statement to placate the sensibilities of Japan on this question.

In the midst of this question, Mr. Coolidge is casting around for a suitable man to take Woods' place. The name of John Hays Hammond, noted mining engineer, and chairman of the coal commission during its brief life, is being mentioned. Hammond at one time was offered the Tokio post by President Harding.

The city council of Monongahela meeting in special session Monday night passed final reading several ordinances, and action was taken in regard to a number of important measures.

A brick street will be built from Marne avenue to Geary street, while the portion of Sixth street extension beyond that point will be improved with concrete. The ordinance for the grading and paving of Ransom alley in the First ward, was finally passed, and the labor incident thereto will be started immediately. The ordinance providing $3,000 for the improvement of Hillcrest park in the First ward, one of the city's municipal playgrounds, was passed, and the park will be put in shape this summer. The council adopted a measure providing for the sale of a portion of the city's ground near the incinerating plant, which adjoins the Monongahela Clay Manufacturing Company, to that company, with certain provisions. The manufacturing company desires this ground for storage purposes.

PRELIMINARY WORK FOR A NEW CHURCH

Under authority of court the First Lutheran church of Washington yesterday began the first work toward making provision for the transfer of those who lie buried in the old Lutheran graveyard at the southeast corner of Franklin and Walnut streets, Washington.

This is the first step toward putting that plot in shape for the erection at that corner of the proposed new church for this congregation. The church through court proceedings, was given title in fee simple to this property, and in connection with that title a decree was made allowing the removal and re-interment of those that were buried there.

Under a recent order of court approval was given by the proposed crypt or vault to be erected in connection with the church, wherein will be placed these remains. They will be well taken care of in this vault and any monuments that remain intact in the graveyard will be preserved. As far as possible, records will be kept in this vault of those whose remains will finally rest there. There have been no burials in this cemetery for a number of years. Many of the monuments are gone or are badly broken or disfigured. Others, of sandstone, have deteriorated to such an extent that it is impossible to read the inscriptions on them.

This vault is to be built at once and made ready to receive these exhumed remains. After its completion, a temporary building will be built about it, pending the erection of the church, of which the vault eventually will be a part. The vault will be located near the southeast corner of this parcel of land. There are no bodies so far as is known on the spot where the vault will be erected. If any remains are found, they will be taken care of until the vault is ready. The work is being done by Stephen Vankirk, of Point Lookout. In connection with the lifting of these remains, the curious will not be allowed on the ground. Those in charge expect to do this work without the presence of the morbidly curious. The court suggested that the work be done with as little publicity as possible.

The congregation plans in the near future to take definite steps towards the erection of a new church. It will front on West Walnut street, Washington. The entrance to the Sunday school will be off North Franklin, that city. The central tower of the church will be diagonally back from the Franklin-Walnut street corner.

BELIEVE CARBINE WILL SOLVE MYSTERY

Marysville, Pa., May 21—Find the gun that killed Harry Ganster and Leah Ellenberger.

Major Lynn Adams of the state police, gave this order to his men today, before going to the mountains to renew their search for the slayer in the double murder mystery.

A carbine, of an old model, well cleaned, possibly of a foreign make, is believed by Major Adams to have been the kind that did the killing.

The unusual bore and calibration shown by the bullet taken from the dead girl's arm were considered factors favoring location of the rifle.

This was the only hopeful sign today after nearly the entire night was spent in running down the clue given by Clinton Ganster, the murdered boy's brother, leading to a moonshiners' cave.

No signs indicating existence of a moonshiner in the entire area covered by the state police since Saturday have been found.

Mountaineers were to be questioned today as to the possession of firearms that might resemble the one used in the killing.

Pirates Surprise Fans By Again Defeating The New York Giants

The Pittsburgh National League Baseball team is emerging from its protracted slump, and yesterday gave another exhibition of baseball which caused joy unlimited to the fans of Pittsburgh, and incidentally, the entire Pittsburgh district. Meadows was in the box for the Pirates, and while touched for 11 hits, they were widely scattered [illegible] down to third place, and the Cubs' timely win over the Phillies, elevated them to second place in the league standing. Tribute Money.

During the administration of Thomas Jefferson, the Barbary states gave much trouble, not only to the United States, but to the European powers, because of the pirates that infested the waters of this part of the coast of north Africa. The European powers had been accustomed to pay them tribute in order that their vessels might not be molested. The American government had entered upon the same practice. Cargoes of presents were sent now and again to appease the greed of these pirates. The demands became so exorbitant that our government at last sent a small fleet to the Mediterranean, which taught the pirates that blackmailing must cease. This is the only instance in which the United States had paid tribute to any country.

It is well known that pure quartz glass possesses the property of transmitting very abundantly, the so-called chemical rays of light by means of which photographic effects are produced, and it has often been attempted to make photographic lenses of quartz alone. "AFTER SIX DAYS" AT THE COYLE NEXT WEEK

Here is a film which traces the story of the Bible from creation to the time of King Solomon, when the wise king sang his song of songs to lowly of the fields. And this picture is the Bible, without ornamentation, told baldly, shocking sometimes in its very baldness. 'After Six Days' is not a mere movie. It is an historical record.

Before your eyes you see Eden, you see Cain slay Abel, you see a graphic portrayal of the flood, of the Ark riding the flood. You witness the building of the Tower of Babel, the confusion of the peoples when they wake to find each man with a foreign tongue on his lips. You go with Joseph in his wanderings you follow his brethren into Egypt, where Joseph is the righthand man of the Pharaoh and you enjoy the magic story of Joseph's revelation of himself to those who had left him in the hands of the robbers. And then Moses appears on the screen, a mighty Moses, leading his people out of the wilderness at the order of God, and you sense the tremendous drama in Moses' gesture of Godhood, which results in his own abasement before the God he forgot for only a moment. Then Solomon rises before your eyes, and the pastoral love story of the Bible is told sharply in quick, clarifying strokes ending the sequence of scenes of the Old Testament's story.

"After Six Days" is a tremendous picture. It is said that it required five years in the making. Apparently tens of thousands of persons appeared in it. The number of leading characters runs into the hundreds, the settings defy description, battles, pestilence, pageants, movements of [illegible] pass on the screen like frail shadows.

Children will understand the Bible better for having seen "After Six Days." Older folk will recall their Sunday school lessons, and will turn once again to the pages of the immortal book.

Milo, King of Athletes.

Milo was an ancient Greek athlete of whom it is related that he once carried a heifer on four years to the sacrifice on his shoulders, killed it with a blow of his fist and afterward, it is added, ate the whole of it in one day. His death is characteristically related by the Detroit News. When enfeebled by age he attempted to rend open the trunk of a tree partially split by wood cutters, but the wood closing on his hands, held him fast, and he was attacked and devoured by wolves. Milo bore off the prize six times in the Olympic games and on an equal number of times at the Pythian. He was promoted to command an army against the Sybarites and at the battle of the Crathis 511 B. C., his great strength aided by Diodotus to have given the victory to the Crotonians.

"East, West--Home is Best"

Nothing truer was ever spoken. Yet a shopping trip to Pittsburgh should be made at frequent intervals.

Right in the heart of Pittsburgh's shopping district—within easy walking distance of every railroad terminal, and passed by probably three-quarters of Pittsburgh's street cars, looms the white walls of Pittsburgh's largest mercantile establishment—Kaufmann's "The Big Store."

Thirteen stories in height (above a separate Basement Store)—a full block square—more than 60 separate departments that cover practically every apparel and utilitarian need.

Quality goods from all over the world is assembled here under one roof for your inspection and selection. With foreign offices in London, Paris, Yokohama and Florence, Italy—with an office in New York City—Kaufmann's brings to you the cream of the productions of all those countries.

Our buyers make periodical trips to the Orient, too, for fine Rugs, and similar merchandise that only the far-East can produce. And in everything we sell—whether from far-off lands or from our own United States, we have exercised the utmost care that it measures up to the high quality standards we maintain.

Then We Have Marked It At Lowest Prices Possible, Consistent With High Quality

Our Mail or Phone Order Bureau maintains a large force of carefully trained, expert shoppers whose entire efforts are devoted to filling the wants of Out-of-Towners. If you cannot come to Pittsburgh, and there is something you need that you cannot secure locally, mail or phone your order and we shall fill it to your entire satisfaction.

Civil Improvement Is Object of "Rotarians"

The Rotarians are members of the Rotary club, which was formed in Chicago in 1906 by four men—a coal dealer, mining operator, merchant tailor and lawyer. "Rotary" was chosen for the name of the club because the members met in "rotation" at their places of business. Civil improvement was the object of the club and the motto adopted is: "Service above self—He profits most who serves best." Other clubs were soon organized in other cities and in 1910 a convention was held in Chicago at which a national association of Rotary clubs was formed. Two years later in order to include clubs from foreign countries the association was made international. At the beginning of 1923 the membership of the association totaled over 83,000. Membership in a local club is restricted to one man from each business or profession. A new club must start with not less than 15 or more than 25 members. The clubs are grouped in districts, each district electing a governor to represent it on the international board, which meets in Chicago every 60 days. The Rotarian, a monthly published at Chicago, is the official publication of the organization.

Keeps Absolute Check on Time Taken for Operation

Modern efficiency methods as applied in factories and shops often make it necessary to study the time required for different operations in the manufacture of certain products. For this work it is absolutely necessary to have a stop watch. The conventional stop watch, however, leaves much to be desired, for the reason that, while it gives the time elapsed for a certain operation, it is necessary to indulge in a considerable calculation for determining the output per hour or day.

Now a time-study watch has been evolved for the purpose of eliminating all computation and making it possible for an observer to read from the dial the quantity desired. The circumference of the dial of the watch is divided into 100 parts, as in the well-known decimal dial, but instead of these divisions being numbered in the ordinary manner they are marked with figures which indicate the number of operations per hour, when the time of a single operation is represented by the elapsed time. In the instance of very short operations ten operations instead of one can be timed.

Soundproof Booths

Soundproof telephone booths are constructed by various firms, and owing to the principle involved in their makeup it is said that not the least sound can escape from them while the telephone is being used.

The walls of the booth are built of five layers of thin wood, with the grain crossed each time, and the layers are glued together, the whole then being covered with a special soundproof compound.

Inasmuch as the whole is made in six dismountable panels a booth can be set up in a short time and panels are not too large to be taken in through an ordinary door. Insulated openings are left in the partitions beforehand, so that there is no need of boring holes to install telephone or electric light wires.

Fire Done Away With

The four new ocean-going dredges designed by the United States Engineering corps to clean American harbors of sand and silt are said to be the only human habitations since the dawn of civilization in which fire in some form is not used or needed. Everything is done by electricity.

Each vessel is 288 feet long and is propelled by electricity from generators driven by oil engines. All control is direct from the bridge, without reference to the engine-room.

Fifty-six electric motors operate the dredging machinery and do all the work of the ship—from weighing the anchor to driving the electric fans that ventilate the crew's quarters.

Lightning Bores Iron

During an electrical storm in Ohio an official of a lumber company sitting in his office was startled by a loud report like the discharge of a gun, and, looking up at the ceiling, noticed a blaze. On examination he found that there was a hole large enough to insert his little finger in the iron gas pipe. The lightning had come in over the electric wires, jumped off on to the gas pipe, which they crossed at right angles, bored through the iron and ignited the escaping gas.

The Last Straw

Mr. Busiman was exasperated with the telephone. Ten times that morning he had tried to get a number and each time something had prevented him from speaking. At last he got through.

"Hello!" he said. "Is Mr. X. there?"

"Yes," replied a voice, "Do you want to speak to him?"

That was the last straw. Back went the reply in icy tones: "Oh, no! I merely rang him up to hand him a cigarette."

Home of the Brave

"The rapidly increasing divorce rate," remarked the newcomer, "proves that America is fast becoming the land of the free."

"Yes," said his friend, "and the continuance of the marriage vows shows that it is still the home of the brave."

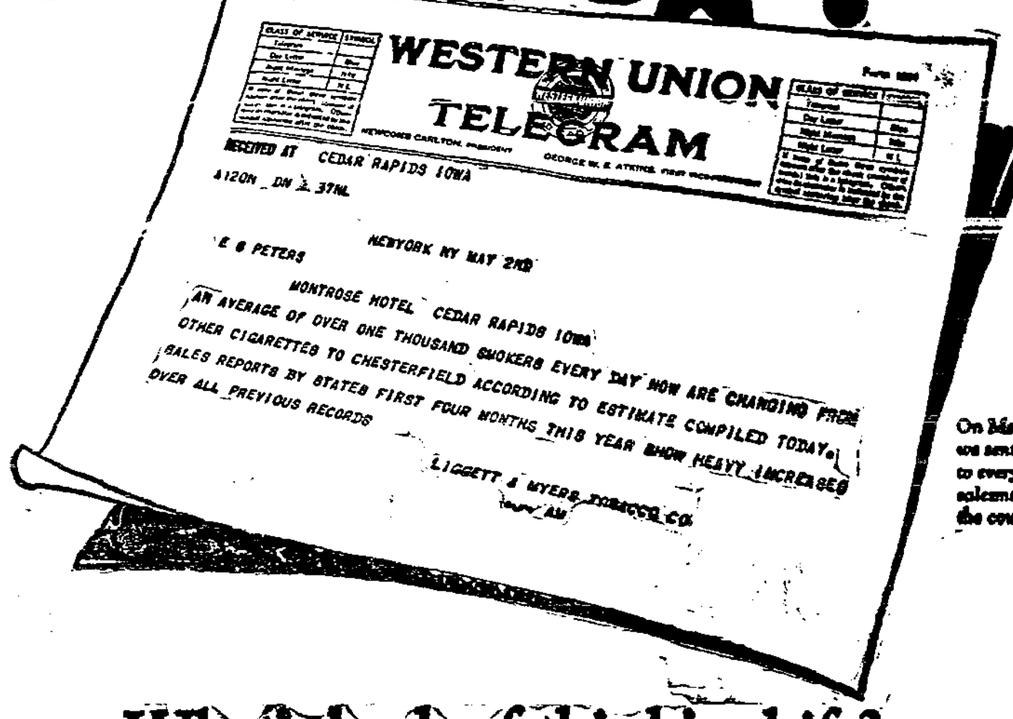
Is cigarette taste changing?



WESTERN UNION
TELEGRAM
RECEIVED AT CEDAR RAPIDS IOWA
NEWYORK NY MAY 2ND
MONTROSE HOTEL CEDAR RAPIDS IOWA
AN AVERAGE OF OVER ONE THOUSAND SMOKERS EVERY DAY NOW ARE CHANGING FROM OTHER CIGARETTES TO CHESTERFIELD ACCORDING TO ESTIMATE COMPILED TODAY.
SALES REPORTS BY STATES FIRST FOUR MONTHS THIS YEAR SHOW HEAVY INCREASES OVER ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS
LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

On May 2nd we sent this wire to every one of our salesmen throughout the country.

What's back of this big shift? Why are men changing by thousands?

Note—If you have not read the telegram above, please glance through it.

Looking out from behind the scenes

BIG EVENTS happen rarely in the cigarette business—yes.

But if today you were "behind the scenes," you could sit and watch a thing going on that—in a mild way perhaps—might open any man's eyes.

The Man in the Street, the average smoker, is hardly aware that anything's happening.

He might chance to notice that Smith has changed to another cigarette. Or, sitting with a group, it might occur to him that three or four of them have "switched"—quite lately.

No—there's nothing spectacular about it.

But when every small brook starts to rise, there's a big flood in the river—and "flood" is exactly the word to describe this thing we are talking about.

What is it that is happening?

The thing that is happening is simply that, for months now, an average of over one thousand men EVERY DAY in this country (1,000 every day—think of it!) are changing from other cigarettes to Chesterfield.

• • •

Is cigarette taste changing? We don't know. But we do know that smokers are changing—over 150,000 have changed to Chesterfield since New Year's Day.

Nothing to get excited about, of course; but not a thing quite to ignore either—if you are interested in "what's what" in smoking.

Why are these men changing? Is it Chesterfield's exceptional tobaccos, the fortunate blend, the unusual freedom from "sweetening," or what? Perhaps you don't care.

Perhaps the only thing you care about is "How do they TASTE?" All right. When it comes to that, Chesterfields—if you give them the chance—will tell their own story (and prove it!) in a far better way than we can.

Such popularity must be deserved

BOROUGH PROGRESS.

In line with the civic progress which permeates North Charleroi, the borough fathers are agreed that the time is propitious for a new Municipal building to take the place of the structure now being utilized. On the same street of the present Borough building is a postoffice structure which, liken to the Municipal building, has subserved its purpose and which, in the opinion of the average citizen of North Charleroi, should give way to an up-to-date and more commodious structure. However, in this latter regard [illegible] doubtless see to it that better quarters are afforded in his usual good time.

North Charleroi has grown by leaps and bounds in the past few years, and the resident of yesteryear, now living elsewhere [illegible] town in the event of his return, for residence purposes, or visitation. It is said that there are more new houses being built in North Charleroi this spring than in any borough of like proportions in this part of the state. The borough has recently made its fire department more efficient by providing more and better equipment; the sewage system and sanitation conditions of the borough are being improved with the passing of time, and the streets and avenues are also being looked after more zealously in keeping with borough progress. Noting all these things, the council of the town, knowing that the present Municipal building is incomparible from every angle, is looking toward the adoption of plans and letting of the contract for a structure that will appeal to the citizenry of the borough and at the same time prove its utility for not only council meetings and for election purposes, but can be used for civic purposes of various character. Even if a bond issue is necessary, the taxpayers of North Charleroi should vote "Yes" for a new Municipal building.

THE OFFICE CAT

All oil fields are mothered by wildcats.

Why does a woman who never asks her husband about anything she does, ask him about forty times a day what he would do if she got her hair bobbed.

CONSIDER THE OTHERS.

"He dances beautifully," sighed the impressionable girl.

"Take my advice," answered Gladys, "and don't deprive society of his accomplishment. It would be a shame for him to get married and have to stay home nights."

To be properly weighed in the social scale it is necessary to have a cash balance.

Experience is what you get while you are looking for something else.

A PLEA FOR THE CROWDED LITTLE.

Hail to Monaco, placid and [illegible]
Just a scrap of dune and highland
As a perfect spot to live and love and smile, and bill and coo
And then laughter rang out scornful
When their friends rehearsed quite mournful,
"Oh boy! you two will learn to hate that bourne full
Of just you."

They declared that crowds were fearful,
Desert islands were more cheerful,
Love's enough and love is all"—they spoke an earful,
With a smile,
Then away they sailed delighted;
At the talk their plan excited,
Quite prepared to give them lots of honeymoon
Scheme a trial.

When a steamer called out next autumn
With some presents friends had brought em,
For a half a day the captain sought and sought 'em,
Shouting, pecking.
Hal was found with an airy
Cavern far away from Mary—
He admitted, in a manner scary,
They were'nt speaking.

When they found her, Mary stated,
"Twosome stuff is overrated—
I am bored to death, misunderstood, [illegible]
Too, of course;
Take me back to civilization,
Where there's noise without cessation,
Where there's styles and population
—And divorce!"

The line is busy may be good English but it is bad news.

Life is not so short but that there is always room for courtesy.

Were you ever in a railroad accident?

Yes, I kissed the wrong girl once when we went through a tunnel.

They say a man always gets just what he is looking for—which is very true—unless he is looking for something good.

Trustees of Church Insure Pastor's Life

A new idea in church building finance made its appearance in Rochester, N. Y., recently when the trustees of the Baptist temple, who are putting up a combined church and office building in that city, insured the life and health of their pastor, the Rev. Clinton Wunder, for $100,000 for the benefit of the church, the premium to be paid out of the building fund.

Success of the undertaking depends so much upon the Rev. Wunder's energy, initiative and devotion, the trustees explained, that his death or disability would be an irreparable blow to it, and the insurance is taken out to protect the plan so far as money can do it.

The policy calls for fifteen payments. In the event of the pastor's total disability the church will receive $3,000 a year; in case of the death it will receive the full amount or $100,000.

At the expiration of twelve years, if the church desires to surrender the policy, it will have $50,000 in cash to apply on the payment of its second mortgage bonds, which become due at that time. The premium will amount to approximately $4,000 a year.

Capitals of Missouri

Missouri has had three state capitals during its history. The first was at St. Louis, from which place it was moved to St. Charles about 1821. It was permanently made at Jefferson City in 1826. Alexander McNair was the first governor after the state's admission in 1821.

An elaborate dinner of three courses was served. The invited guests present were Misses Helen Hill, Muriel Baker, and Edith Piersol. Misses Irene Jones, Mary Welch and Adelaide Leque were the honored guests and each were the recipient of a set of beautiful iridescent sherbert glasses. Miss Claire Campodi who will not be among the Fifth street teachers next year received a handsome leather writing pad. The next meeting will be held June 10, to be the last one until September 2. A splendid paper on the disastrous earthquake of Japan and the missionary work of the church carried on in that country, was prepared and read by Walter T. Bromwich. The members present decided that the Crozier club would be represented in the Japanese Reconstruction Fund and would donate $10 or more towards this great cause. The treasury will be later reimbursed with this sum by the proceeds of a social that will be held June 17, in the Church school room. A committee was appointed and work on the project was begun.

A Growth Justified by Performance

Years ago when motorists had to be content with the unnecessary expense, lost power and lack of pep of regular gasoline, AMOCO-GAS made its bow to Maryland Motorists as the First Special Motor Fuel.

The instant popularity of this motor fuel proved that motorists were not content with regular gasoline. Every user became an enthusiast, and his friends and their friends in turn.

The demand grew rapidly, until AMOCO-GAS in name and use spread far beyond the boundary lines of Maryland into many other states—including Pennsylvania. This growth is justified.

Every drop of AMOCO-GAS is clean power waiting to be put to work. It is free from dirt and sediment that cause motor troubles. It eliminates carbon deposits and carbon knocks.

For power, speed, gallon mileage and economy there is none better than AMOCO-GAS—The First Special Motor Fuel.

100,000 WOMEN TO ATTEND G. O. P. CONVENTION

Washington, D. C., May 21—One thousand women will attend the Cleveland convention, 350 to 400 of whom will be delegates and alternates [illegible] estimate made yesterday by Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice chairman of the National Republican Committee. Ninety-three women delegates with full voting powers have already been listed at National Republican headquarters and there are ten states that as yet have not sent in their reports. In addition, there will be roughly, about 250 women alternate delegates.

The associate members of the National Republican Committee members of the Women's National Republican Executive Committee and other prominent women will also attend the convention. Among them will be Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird of Massachusetts; Mrs. Medill McCormick of Illinois; Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson and Mrs. Charles H. Sabin of New York. Women legislators are to have a prominent part in the convention. Mrs. Nettie M. Clapp of Cleveland, is chairman of the Women's [illegible] committee for Cleveland, which is arranging for the entertainment of the women delegates and visitors.

A meeting of the National Republican Committee is scheduled for June 4, preceding the convention. Among the prominent women who will not be delegates but will have an immense influence with the delegates are Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt of Washington; Mrs. Bessie Parker Brueggeman of St. Louis; Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler of New York, Miss Betsey Edwards, the woman manager of the Coolidge forces and Miss Marion Parkhurst of New York.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the women. The auditorium in which the delegates will be seated is a new structure housing 14000 people. The seats are all comfortable and the stage can be seen from every seat. There are no posts or pillars. Opening off the auditorium are a number of rooms for committees. The assistant sergeants at arms will come from various states and the ushers will [illegible] be from Cleveland. There will be women in both groups.

Steamers have been arranged to take the delegates sailing on Lake Erie. There will be special performances in two of the theatres and residents of Cleveland are furnishing automobiles to take the visitors sightseeing. The national headquarters in the new Federal Reserve Bank, which has just been completed and which is as yet unoccupied and was offered for headquarters for national, state and local committees. This bank is but two blocks from the auditorium where the convention sessions will take place.

At the women's headquarters will be Mrs. Leonard G. Woods of Pittsburgh, second vice chairman of the National Republican committee, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice chairman of the National Republican Executive Committee.

Beginning with Saturday afternoon, June 7, preceding the convention, a convention tea will be served each afternoon at the Hollenden Hotel with Mrs. Woods as hostess.

On the evening of June 7 members of the National Committee will be entertained by the Cleveland committee. Among the speakers will be Mrs. Woods, Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton. Women will in all probability make the nominating and seconding speeches for the candidates. Among the youngest delegates will be Miss Dora M. Sisney of Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Mrs. William Lowell Putnam of Boston, president of the Coolidge Club of America, is an alternate at large for Massachusetts. Many women who have been at the heads of Coolidge clubs and Coolidge campaign committees in various states will be delegates to the convention. Mrs. William T. Hallowell of Fort Madison, Iowa associate chairman of the Coolidge Committee for Iowa, is one of Iowa's delegates at large.

THIRD PANEL OF JURYMEN TO TRY HARRY HOFFMAN

St. George, Staten Island, May 23—The third panel of jurymen was called today in an attempt to select 12 men to try Harry Hoffman, motion picture operator, for the murder of Mrs. Maud Bauer. Only eight jurors have been selected out of a venire of 250 men.

Jurors have been rejected because [illegible] for favor capital punishment after conviction based upon circumstantial evidence. District attorney Fuchs has said the entire case evolves around a chain of circumstances connecting Hoffman with the murder.

The panel called today was of 120 men. Examination of the prospective jurors was started immediately.

Hoffman is accused of being the [illegible] on a lonely Staten Island road.

HARRISON'S SLOGAN TO BE "HARMONY"

Washington, May 21.—"Harmony" is the keynote that Senator Pat Harrison seeks to inject into the tense atmosphere of the Democratic National convention in New York next month, where a dozen rival factions will be striving for the nomination of their candidates for president.

The youthful temporary chairman closeted himself today and began writing his keynote speech which is designed to a united "militant Democracy" of all factions of the party after the dust of the convention battle has settled.

Democratic leaders, eager for party success in November, are building high hopes on the ability of Harrison to weave into a harmonious whole the conflicting views of the elements that make up the party. As a result, he is being deluged with advice.

As a "keynoter" Harrison must not only outline the issues on which his party "goes to the country" but soothe any ruffled feelings, arouse Democrats to fighting pitch and appeal to Republican voters as well. His speech must bear the scrutiny of the voters and the cold analysis of editors.

Advice Harrison already has received is to deal with the wet and dry issue and to skirt the Ku Klux Klan question. The league of nations also is a question regarded by party managers as requiring skilful handling because of the strong pro and anti-league factions in the party.

Harrison expects to make his chief appeal to the voters at large by a constructive program of legislation rather than by pointing with pride to past Democratic accomplishments or viewing with partisan alarm the unfitness of Republicans to rule. Taxes, tariff, railroad and farm relief legislation will be high points in the Democratic program he will outline.

Harrison's friends say that his speech will be in striking contrast to his partisan Senate speeches and it will have more substance than striking phrases.

"NOT AS MANY SALOONS AS FORMERLY;" THAW

New York, May 21—Harry Thaw had just one fleeting look at the city that he knew a generation ago as a gay-hearted Pittsburgh spendthrift, and his one comment was:

"There aren't as many saloons now as there used to be."

Then after arranging $1,000 bail for two indictments that have been held against him for the seven years of his incarceration in a madhouse Thaw left town and spent the night at a country place in New Jersey.

Judge Olvaney, who admitted Thaw to bail yesterday, was to decide whether it would be necessary for the slayer of Stanford White to return here today. Another long dormant indictment against Thaw, charging conspiracy, was dug up after the judge had left his chambers Tuesday, and it was thought that a technicality might require Thaw's presence here.

If not, Thaw will return to Pittsburgh. He is wearing mourning for a brother, Edward, who died in California Saturday.

G. L. KATZ IS THE MAIN GUEST OF HONOR

G. L. Katz, who leaves Saturday for Scranton, was the main guest of honor in a banquet given by the branch of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New Kensington, at New Kensington Saturday afternoon. Mr. Katz's change of base is in the line of promotion.
